

Grief teaches us...

The world is not predictable; life happens when we least expect it.

Appreciation; security in life and happiness comes not from education, achievement or possessions. Happiness and security come from people who are there for us and people who love us.

We get our meaning system and spirituality from our loved ones.

The Future

Created in our Art Therapy Program